FOUR MAY BE DEAD IN RUINS

BIG FIRE AT PROSPECT LAKE; FAMILY MISSING.

MANAGEMENT MUCH WORRIED

CARETAKER, WIFE, CHILD, AND MOTHER-IN-LAW LOST?

ALL MAY HAVE BEEN BURNED

Have Not Been Seen Since Their Home Was Destroyed—Blaze Probably of Incendiary Origin or Caused by Gasoline Stove Explosion.

Deep mystery surrounds a supposedly incendiary fire which almost totally destroyed the buildings at Prospect lake last night, involving a loss of from $15,000 to $20,000, and is feared to have caused the death of four people. Caretaker Nipple, his wife and 3-year-old child, together with Mrs. Nipple's mother, who recently came here from St. Louis on a visit, are missing. Their home at the lake, together with $400 or $500 worth of furniture, is destroyed and not a trace of the family can be secured. After searching in vain for Nipple and his family until after midnight, A. G. Hopkins, manager of the resort, reported the matter to Police Sergeant C. S. Railsback, with a request that the department search for the missing people.

Stove May Have Exploded.

Nipple is about 35 years old and came here with his family from St. Louis. He has been employed by the Prospect Lake Amusement company for about four months, as boatman and watchman. The family lived in rooms back of the office building at the lake. The watchman has always [illegible] duties, which fact increases the uneasiness of Manager Hopkins. The lake closed for the summer last Tuesday, when the fires were drawn from the steam plant and the water removed from the boilers. It is thought that the fire was caused either by the explosion of the gasoline stove in the kitchen of Nipple's home, or by an incendiary, owing to the absence of all possible cause for a fire in any other part of the buildings except in the kitchen.

Manager Hopkins Talks.

Manager Hopkins said last night:

"The place may have been set on fire by some employe who was discharged, and I will investigate the matter thoroughly. I am greatly worried over the absence of Nipple and his family. His entire household effects are destroyed. The flames attracted attention all over the city, and I am sure that Nipple would have noticed the blaze and hastened to the scene had he been down town. In any event, had he been in town, he would have taken the last car to Prospect lake, and I am sure that he would not have left the city without notifying us. He agreed some time ago to give me 10 days' notice before quitting, and he has always kept his word."

Almost a Total Loss.

The property destroyed includes a complete electric light plant, a water heating plant, the offices, rooms occupied by the Nipples, about 165 out of the 175 bath booths, a big refreshment stand and many minor buildings. All that was saved is the boathouse and 10 or 12 bath booths, together with most of the rowboats and an electric launch, out of repair. Eighteen of the 23 rowboats were found uninjured after the fire, but the remaining five may have filled with water and sunk. They can be recovered. Of the total loss of $15,000 or $20,000, about 20 per cent is covered by insurance. The improvements were owned by Mrs. Prudence E. Zobrist, of 418 North Nevada avenue, widow of the late Charles J. Zobrist. The lake is owned by the city and is leased to Mrs. Zobrist. The lease has 10 or 12 years yet to run, and if this time can be extended to 50 years, Mrs. Zobrist and associates will expend from $20,000 to $30,000 in rebuilding the improvements next spring.

Fire Department Helpless.

The fire started about 9:30 o'clock last night. The flames, fanned by a strong wind, burned the buildings like so much tinder. Prospect lake is just outside the east hills of Colorado Springs. The fire department was notified, but was unable to render any aid since there are no fire plugs near the lake, and the steamer was unable to make the steep grade up the hill to the scene.

The flames cast a lurid reflection on the sky and were visible for miles around. Wild reports that the entire east side of the city was on fire were circulated, and hundreds of people rushed to the lake.

Officials Do Good Work.

To Chief of Police W. S. Reynolds, C. T. Fortig, president of the city council, and several others are due much credit for saving the boats and boathouse, together with a few of the bath booths. Chief Reynolds was notified of the fire shortly after its discovery. Meeting Fortig, he took him in his buggy, and the two raced out to Prospect lake. A number of bystanders were gazing on the work of destruction, but no effort was being made to extinguish the flames. Seizing buckets, Reynolds and Fortig, aided by scores of willing hands, forced them into the swimming pool with ropes, drew up the water and cast it on the devouring flames. They saved the boats by cutting them adrift. The fire was under control shortly after their arrival, but the damage had already been done, and the entire place lies in smoldering ruins.

CAR AND AUTO CLASH

SEVEN INJURED, THREE OF WHOM MAY DIE.

Chauffeur and Motorman Each Depended on Other to Slacken Speed and Collision Ensued.

DENVER, Sept. 20.—Seven persons were injured, three perhaps fatally as the result of a collision between an automobile and an electric car on the outskirts of the city tonight. The party which included several Chicago people had been on a sight-seeing tour and was returning to the city.

The car was running along at a good speed, when an electric car loomed up, coming directly across the path of the automobile. The chauffeur expected the car to slow down and evidently the motorman depended on the automobile to slacken its speed.

Neither car nor automobile shut off power until too late and the collision resulted. The injured:

Mrs. William Ferris, Chicago; internally injured; may die.

Alexander Ferris, her son; crushed and internally injured; may die.

Mrs. Russell Dale, Chicago; both legs broken.

Mrs. S. K. Gardner, Chicago; bruised about the body and shocked.

Mrs. S. F. Howe, Denver; slightly hurt.

Mrs. L. C. Jones, Denver; slightly hurt.

James H. Trenible, Denver; chauffeur, badly bruised and believed internally injured.

All were taken to Morey hospital.

CAPTURE EASTBOUND RECORD

Lusitania Will Try to Lower Time From New York to Queenstown on Return Trip.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The great turbine steamship Lusitania, which reached this port last Friday morning on her maiden voyage across the Atlantic in 5 days and 54 minutes from Queenstown, a record for the course, will sail at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for her return trip. While nothing has been said by Captain Watts about an attempt to lower the record of 5 days, 5 hours and 38 minutes from New York to Queenstown, now held by the Lucania, it is believed the big steamer will hold the honor for the eastbound trip as she now does for the westbound, when she finishes the run to the Irish port.

The choice of a pilot to take the Lusitania through the new channel tomorrow has developed a big row among the pilots. Frank Cramer, the pilot who was chosen to bring the big Cunarder through last Friday, has been superseded in that honor by Edward Young, one of the oldest men in the service. Cramer has presented charges before the pilot commissioners against all his associates who were on the station boat when he boarded the incoming Lusitania. The charges were brought by Cramer because his companions wrote the word "scab" in three-foot letters on a sheet and hung it in the main rigging of the steam pilot boat, New Jersey, when Cramer boarded the Lusitania.

DISGRACE TO COUNTRY

RATE LAWS OF MINNESOTA VICIOUS SAYS JUDGE.

Legislators Savagely Attacked for Passing Acts Which Are Reproach to Intelligence of Age.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 20.—Judge William Lochren of the United States circuit court this afternoon, in a lengthy opinion, granted the request of the complaining stockholders of the railroads operating in Minnesota, that a temporary injunction issue against the commodity rates enacted by the last state legislature.

The court, however, made preliminary rulings with the attorneys for the state in three other points; first, that the exercise of rate-making power by the state does not interfere with interstate commerce; second, that merchandise rates ordered by the state railroad commission, September 1, 1906, shall remain in force; third, the two-cent passenger rate enacted by the last legislature is not confiscatory and shall remain in effect. The injunction only affects those rates which were to have taken effect June 1 last but which did not because of the restraining order of the court.

In his opinion the court savagely arraigned the Minnesota legislature. "There is no question," said the court, "that such legislation (referring to the rate laws of the recent session) is vicious and a disgrace almost to the civilization of the age. It is a reproach to the intelligence and sense of justice of any legislature which would promote acts of that kind."

NEW CURE FOR THE RHEUMATIZ

DRIVE "DEMONS" OUT BY PULLING LEGS AND ARMS.

RELIGIOUS CRANKS TORTURE AGED MOTHER TO DEATH.

MISSION IS TO EXPEL DEVILS

Five Persons Who Took Part in Horrible Tragedy Under Arrest—Son Tells in Vivid Language How Mother Shrieked in Agony.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Five persons, members of the sect of Parhamites, are under arrest in Zion City, accused of torturing to death Mrs. Letitia Greenhaugh, 64 years old, a cripple for 20 years, in order to show belief in religion they profess.

Those arrested are Walter and Jennie Greenhaugh, the son and daughter of the woman; Harold Mitchell, Mrs. Harold Mitchell and Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Greenhaugh had been for 20 years an invalid, suffering from paralysis and rheumatism.

The sect of Parhamites was founded about a year ago by Charles F. Parham and numbers about 200 persons. Its members originally belonged to Dowie's church, and they believe in the gift of tongues, and especially in diabolical possession. It is their theory that sickness is an evidence of the possession of the body by evil spirits.

To Drive Out Devil.

The condition of Mrs. Greenhaugh convinced her son and daughter and the three persons arrested with them that she must be possessed of the devil, and they determined to exorcise the evil spirit. The five knelt by the bedside and, after prayer, commenced their work.

The arms of Mrs. Greenhaugh, stiffened by rheumatism, were jerked and twisted about in order that the devil might be driven out. The cries of the aged woman were considered to be those of an evil spirit and were greeted with triumphant shouts.

After a course of this violent treatment Mrs. Greenhaugh not only became so weak that she could not use her limbs, but became incapable of making any motions. Then her neck was twisted, and for some time this treatment was kept up.

Walter Greenhaugh testified at the coroner's inquest that Mitchell and his wife recently had a "vision" in which Mitchell was ordered to quit work and devote his time to casting out demons from the sick.

The "Demons" Resisted.

Young Greenhaugh declared that his mother's consent was obtained before the treatment was commenced. He declared that hypnotic passes were made before his mother's face, and then followed the muscular force which, he said, was strongly resisted by the "demons." Mrs. Smith's part in the treatment, according to the testimony before the coroner's jury, consisted in raising Mrs. Greenhaugh's head and holding her while Mitchell and his wife attempted to straighten the woman's limbs, which had been twisted by years of rheumatism.

Shrieked With Agony.

Greenhaugh broke down and cried as he told his story. He declared that for some time his mother bore the treatment bravely, but at last the agony became so great that she could not restrain herself and she shrieked "Oh, Lord, help me" a number of times. According to Greenhaugh, Mitchell declared that her cries must not be heard by outsiders, and he put his hand across her mouth to smother them. The five worked over the victim until she died shortly before noon. After that, according to Greenhaugh, Mrs. Smith became the leader in a resurrection scene. In this efforts were made to restore the dead woman to life. When these had failed the announcement of her death was made. The case is being fully investigated today by the authorities of Lake county, in which Zion is situated.

Kept Fortune Secret.

Mrs. Greenhaugh died Wednesday noon, but it was 36 hours later that the circumstances under which she died were learned. Chief of Police Walker of Zion City at once ordered an investigation and the coroner of Lake county was notified. Deputy Coroner Edward Conrad was dispatched from Waukegan, arriving at Zion City at midnight, and at once the impaneling of a jury and the summoning of witnesses began. The inquest proceeded far enough to warrant the holding of Walter and Jennie Greenhaugh, son and daughter of the woman, and the other three persons on a manslaughter charge. Greenhaugh and his sister were taken into custody immediately after adjournment of the inquest. Mitchell and his wife and Mrs. Smith were arrested at 5 a. m. The head of the Greenhaugh family, husband of the slain woman, is not a Parhamite.

Decoyed Husband Away.

According to the story told before the coroner's jury by the younger Greenhaugh, it was necessary to get the older Greenhaugh out of the way before the exorcism could take place. Wednesday morning he was called out of the house, and then the five under arrest entered the room where Mrs. Greenhaugh was lying helpless but valid.

"Mitchell took her by the hand," the son testified, "and pulled her arm away from her body. She screamed. Oh, she screamed terribly. I jumped forward. Mitchell laid me back and put his hand over my mouth and stopped her cries. He said, 'Of course, I shall not hurt her. Those cries are not her cries. That is the screaming of the demons and the devils as they leave her. She is all right.'"

Greenhaugh told of the movements like those of a hypnotist which Mitchell made above the prostrate woman and continued:

Breaks Bones in Limbs.

"Mitchell and his wife again drew near the body. They took her arms and drew them out straight. There was a cracking sound. I found afterward that they broke the bones. They did the same with her legs. They pulled at her head. They groaned and worked with her flesh. She groaned and cried out. They said she would soon be all right. Then mother screamed

TRAINMEN ATTEMPT ESCAPE

Engineer and Conductor Responsible for Death of 63 on Mexican Central Are Arrested.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—Fuller details of the wreck yesterday on the Mexican Central railroad at Encarnacion, where the El Paso express collided with a freight train, bringing the total number of deaths to 65, and the number of injured is now given at 43. Many of the injured will die.

The engineer of the freight train, an American named Brook, is said to have confessed to disobedience of orders. Brook and the conductor of the freight train, a man named Handleman, attempted to make their escape across the country after the accident. They were captured today by a squad of soldiers and are now in prison. The Mexican laws hold them strictly responsible for the accident.

TO REGULATE UTILITIES

RESTRAINING LAWS BETTER THAN PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

Only in Recent Times Has Public Realized Value of Enforcing Control of Corporations.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 20.—H. J. Gordon of Chicago today delivered an address on "Regulation vs. Municipal Ownership," before the convention of American municipalities. He said in part:

The advance of municipal ownership and operation of public utilities in the United States and Canada has been due in a great measure to emotional prejudice and error in estimating financial results.

The ownership and operation of utilities are matters of pure economics. They are most emphatically not moral questions, despite the efforts to make it appear so. Who owns and operates public utilities is trivial compared to how they are operated.

In finding that "the success of municipal operation of public utilities depends upon the existence in the city of a high capacity for municipal government," the investigating committee of the National Civic federation, in its nearly unanimous report, stated a great truth. This "high capacity" for municipal government has yet to be established in America. The fault is not in the public officials, but in the people too much concerned in personal affairs to give public officials proper attention, support and encouragement.

Success Depends on People.

Fairly successful municipal operation is possible when all conditions are favorable and public interest is fresh, vigorous and wholesome. Such interest, however, soon wears out in actual practice.

It is only recently that we have discovered some of the latent powers of our forms of popular government. Ten years ago laws like public utilities acts of New York and Wisconsin would have been regarded impossible.

True, countless efforts have been made before to regulate and control corporations of different kinds. Failures to get good results caused these attempts to become objects of derision. Under these conditions the theory of municipal ownership waxed fat and hearty.

Desirable Only as Club.

That the municipal ownership wave has done good as punishment and a warning is not to be denied. Perhaps the greatest evil remaining lies in the widespread and assiduously nurtured impression that the scheme is potentially meritorious and susceptible to universal application. There may be places—a very few—where it is a good thing to hold in reserve over corporations holding long-time franchises or "perpetual" rights, or where the admission of other corporations of the same kind is not feasible. But the American public should be rescued from the idea that municipal ownership is an automatic remedy for various municipal ills and taught the truth. The truth is nothing more or less than that successful municipal ownership under a form of popular government is extremely hard to attain. It must be the product of conditions not found in the average American city and rightly classed as abnormal.

Control Corporations.

A public service corporation under statutes such as exist in New York and Wisconsin is absolutely at the mercy of agents of the law, equipped with adequate devices to secure obedience. The capital invested in these corporations does not wish to be devoured in whole or in part. The only other alternative lies in treating the public fairly in the matter of prices and service and living up to the law. This plan certainly is sounder and more apt to produce the results expected than the adoption of municipal ownership with its attendant confusion of direction, susceptibility to "practical" politics, usual financial losses and not unusual inefficiency. All that municipal ownership can hope to save a community in a monetary sense are the "profits" which are thought to be making the stockholders of service corporations rich. It is a matter of common knowledge that these profits are being and have been reduced to slender margins, and with many companies wiped out altogether.

COST TO JOHN D. IS $100,000,000

UNIVERSITY LOSES HEAVILY

Rockefeller's Holdings in Standard Still Worth $109,000,000. Witness Tilford Says Florence Oil Company Put Itself Out of Business.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Records of the stockholders of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, laid here today at the hearing of the government's suit for the dissolution of the alleged oil combine disclosed the fact that John D. Rockefeller owns 247,852 shares, or nearly five times as much stock as any other individual shareholder, and that he and his associates, who signed the trust agreement in 1882 still control a majority of the Standard Oil stock. Measured by the present market price of $440 a share, the holdings of Mr. Rockefeller in the Standard Oil company have a value of $109,000,000. The stockholders' record of August 17, 1907, shows that the University of Chicago is the owner of 5,000 shares of Standard Oil stock.

Stock Has Slumped.

The depreciation in the price of Standard Oil stock within the past 10 years, about the time the agitation against the company began, has been more than $400 a share. Since the legal proceedings against the tandard Oil company of New Jersey were instituted the stock has steadily declined until it is now around $440. This represents a loss of over $100,000,000 on the holdings of John D. Rockefeller. The shrinkage in the market value of the stock also affects the University of Chicago to the extent of about $2,000,000.

Life of Company.

This is the list of independent refineries that entered into the verbal agreement with the Standard Oil company:

Pittsburg Oil Refining company of Coraopolis, Pa.

A. D. Miller and Sons of Pittsburg.

Seneca Oil Works of Warren, Pa.

Complanter Refining company of Warren, Pa.

Corewango Refining company of Warren, Pa.

Glade Oil Works of Warren, Pa.

Warren Refining company of Warren, Pa.

Warren Refining company of Emlenton, Pa.

Levi Smith, of Clarendon, Pa.

Lake Carriers Refining company of Neville Island, Pa.

Emlenton Refining company of Emlinton, Pa.

Superior Oil company of Warren, Pa.

Beaver Refining company of Oak Grove, Pa.

Island Petroleum company of Neville Island, Pa.

Canfield Oil company of Coraopolis, Pa.

Sterling Oil Works of Marietta, Ohio.

Troma Oil company.

Mr. Kellogg asked Mr. Tilford if he remembered the war between the Continental Oil company and the Florence Oil company.

"It was not the Florence company, but some other company whose name I don't remember," said Mr. Tilford.

"And the Continental put the other company out of business?"

Committed Hari-kari.

"No; the company put itself out of business," replied Mr. Tilford, who stated that during the war the price of oil dropped one half but rose again when the trouble was over. Mr. Tilford said that the oil firm of Schofield, Schurmer, and Teagle of Cleveland, which refined and sold oil, was sold some years ago to the Republic Oil company, which he said belonged to the Standard Oil company. The oil works of the Schofield company were dismantled and the marketing was taken in charge by the Republic company. Mr. Tilford was asked if the Standard had purchased the Hazlewood Oil company and the Gilbert and Parker company of Pennsylvania, but he said he could not recall.

"You appear to own 400 shares of the Gilber and Parker company," said Mr. Kellogg, reading from a list. "Do you own that stock?"

"Oh, I may, but I don't recall," replied Mr. Tilford.

Mr. Kellogg showed Mr. Tilford a list of companies which were transferred from the National Transit company to the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, on December 31, 1906. The list was as follows:

Carter Oil company, Crescent Pipe Line company, Clarksburg Light & Heat company, Hazlewood Oil company, Hope Natural Gas company, Lawrence Natural Gas company, Mahoning Gas Fuel company, Marion Oil company, Mountain State Gas company, Peoples Natural Gas company, Reserve Gas company, River Gas company, Southwest Pennsylvania Pipe lines, Taylortown Natural Gas company, Washington Oil company.

Mr. Kellogg asked when the transfer was made. Mr. Tilford said he could not say. Mr. Kellogg asked if the transfer was not made to separate the business of the National Transit, which was a pipe line company, from the [illegible] manufacturing companies. Mr. Tilford thought that might be the reason.

Mr. Kellogg excused Mr. Tilford and Mr. Milburn asked leave to cross-examine him on Monday. The hearing then adjourned until Monday morning.

MRS. EDDY FILES REPLY

CUTS SON FROM HERITAGE ON ACCOUNT OF CONTEST.

Wants no Part of Trust Fund of $125,000 to Go to Those Who Tried to Break Will.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 20.—An aftermath of the recent suits of the "next friends" of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the head of the Christian Science church, against those associated with the leader in the management of her affairs, came today when the trustees of a fund for the benefit of her son, George W. Glover, of Lead, S. D., Mary Baker Glover, his daughter and others, sought the ruling of the superior court as to their duties in regard to the fund, in view of the effect of the recent suit of "next friends" upon the conditions of the trust fund.

On February 25, 1901, Mrs. Eddy established a trust fund of $125,000 for the benefit of her son, his wife and children and named as trustees of the fund, Frank G. Streeter and Irving C. Tomlinson, of Concord, and Archibald McClellan, of Boston. Four days later Mrs. Eddy's son and one other "next friend" filed a suit in equity against Mrs. Eddy, which declared her incompetent to transact business. On July 8, Glover, through counsel filed another bill in equity in which the facts were set forth in regard to the trust which had been established for his benefit and asked the court to assume the guardianship of it.

Late this afternoon an answer to the second bill in equity was filed with the clerk of the superior court by the trustees. It refers to a provision in the trust deed which says that if any one or more of the beneficiaries under this trust shall directly or indirectly make any contest or opposition to my [illegible] will or the disposition of other property by me, all right and interest of such beneficiary or beneficiaries in this trust fund shall thereupon and thereby terminate."

ILL HEALTH CAUSES SUICIDE

Woman Who Nursed Wealthy New Yorker Ends Life When She Is Thwarted by Physician.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Margaret Carter, a widow of French extraction, and said to have been of a highly temperamental character, shot and killed herself today in a room adjoining that of John J. White, a wealthy New Yorker, who lay sick in bed.

Mrs. Carter had nursed Mr. White and was a friend of Mrs. White, who was at Bar Harbor.

Recently a professional nurse replaced Mrs. Carter. Mrs. Carter had long been ill, according to Dr. Foster, who was Mrs. Carter's physician and who was also attending Mr. White.

Mrs. Carter came to the White residence last night and asked for Mrs. White. The latter being away, the visitor wanted to see Mr. White, but Dr. Foster, who was present, insisted that the patient was too ill to be seen.

Mrs. Carter carried a bundle, afterward found to contain a hundred-dollar bill, a receipt and a pair of cuff buttons, which she insisted it was important she should give to Mr. White. She walked the floor for hours after being admitted to the house. Dr. Foster ascribes the suicide to ill health and nervous breakdown.

SLANDERS HIS VICTIM

CONSTANTINE SCORED BY STATE'S ATTORNEY.

Trial of Alleged Murdered Finished and Case Will Go to Jury Today.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—The trial of Frank J. Constantine for the murder of Mrs. Gentry last January entered upon its final stage tonight at an extra session of court and the case will probably reach the jury tomorrow. The taking of testimony was completed during the afternoon, the chief witness put forward by the defense having been Constantine himself and the state at once began the closing arguments. Assistant State's Attorney Edward Day in summing up the evidence, denounced the defendant for an attack made by him upon the character of Mrs. Gentry. He described the bloodstains found in the Gentry flat and asserted that they alone were sufficient proof to discredit Constantine's story of suicide.

"Not content" he said, "with having made this woman's grave, this man must reach down into that grave and drag forth her body and blacken her character."

The prosecutor referred to a refusal of Constantine to show on the witness stand how the alleged self-inflicted stroke of the razor was made and declared" he refused because he knew that he would have to indicate a stroke so tremendous that the frail arm of that woman never could have [illegible] it."

EIGHTEEN MEN MASHED TO PULP

CAGE DROPS 800 FEET DOWN SHAFT OF MINE.

BODIES PILED LIKE PELTS

HUNDREDS WOMEN AND CHILDREN WILD WITH SUSPENSE.

200 MINERS BELOW GROUND.

Brake on Hoisting Drum Lets Go and Cage Shoots to Bottom of Shaft—Eleven Crushed to Death and Seven Fatally Injured.

NEGAUNEE, Mich., Sept. 20.—By a cage plunging 850 feet down the shaft of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company mine, 11 men were killed and seven fatally injured today. The cage with its human freight was being lowered on its first trip for the day when the brake on the hoisting drum suddenly failed to hold.

Two other men sprang to the assistance of the one at the brake wheel, but their combined efforts did not avail, and the wire cable continued to unreel from the drum like thread from a bobbin. The cage shot down a couple of hundred feet before a kink in the too rapidly paying out cable caused it to part, and from that point the cage had a sheer drop to the bottom of the shaft.

Drop Through Space.

The safety catches with which it was equipped failed to operate. The surging of the cable in its mad flight tore out part of the side of the engine house and ripped out several of the sheaves in and about the shaft house.

Workmen at the bottom of the mine immediately set about the task of removing the dead. The bodies lay in one pile a mass of lifeless flesh and blood. The bones of the bodies were so shattered that the men when they fell were piled on top of each other like so many pelts of leather. Seven men were found still alive. They are fatally hurt.

Wives and Children Frantic.

Thousands of people soon congregated about the mine shaft. In the crowd were the wives and children of the 200 men who are employed in the mine. Each thought that a husband or parent or son was in the cage. There was no way of relieving the suspense as the fallen cage blocked the exit. It was fully two hours before the cable was adjusted so that the cage could be raised to the surface. During all this time women with babies in their arms cried hysterically or fainted. When all the miners came from under the ground and many anxious wives and others failed to find members of their families who worked in the mine, the scene was pitiful. Priests and ministers moved among the people consoling them and begging them to be calm.

LUMBERMEN PROTEST

Claim Freight Rates to East Are Exorbitant.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—The expected rise in the freight rate on lumber to eastern points from Los Angeles came today and local dealers will appeal to the interstate commerce commission against what they term the exorbitant charges. The increase in the schedule, which is to take place October 1, is as follows:

To Chicago, 10 cents; to Mississippi river points, 12½ cents; to Missouri river points, about 15 cents. It is claimed that the rates work a hardship upon shippers, who, because of lack of railroad facilities, are unable to ship their product direct to the east by rail from Oregon and Washington. They have been shiping largely by water to southern ports and then reshipping by rail from here, but the increase in freight rates makes this route impossible.

Temperance People Want Oklahoma Constitution Approved.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 20.—The Rev. E. C. Dinwiddie, national counsel for the Anti-Saloon league, tonight declared that the influence of the temperance forces of the entire nation would be brought to bear upon President Roosevelt to secure his approval of the constitution.

"The liquor men who were defeated in a fair fight at the polls are now joining with certain elements of the Republican party and planning an appeal to the president to reject the constitution, and not to proclaim statehood," said Dinwiddie. "In this struggle the good people ought to have and in my opinion, will have, the support of the best people of all parties throughout the land."

BABY TORTURED FOR 6 MONTHS

By Terrible Itching Eczema—Face and Head a Solid Sore. Spread to His Hand and Legs—Would Scratch Until He Bled—Tiny Sufferer Immediately Relieved and

ENTIRELY CURED IN 2 MONTHS BY CUTICURA

"When my son Walter was three weeks old, eczema appeared on his face. We did not know what it was so went to a doctor who treated him for three months. Then he was so bad that his face and head were nothing but one sore and his ears looked as if they were going to fall off, so we tried another doctor. He said he could cure him and we doctored there four months, the baby never getting any better. His hand and legs then had big sores on them and as for his sleeping, we could not think of it, the poor little fellow suffered so terribly. First I tied his hands to the crib to keep him from scratching, but when it got so bad I tied him in a shawl or he would scratch himself all bloody. When he was seven months old we tried a set of the Cuticura Remedies. The first application of Cuticura let him sleep and rest well, in one week the sores were gone but it stayed red and sometimes it would itch so we used Cuticura for two months, then he had a clear and white face. Now he is two years and seven months old and has never had eczema again. I hope this letter will help some who are suffering from skin disease. Every mother who has a baby suffering with skin disease should just try Cuticura; there is nothing better. Mrs. Louis Beck, R. F. D. 2, San Antonio, Tex., Apr. 12, '07."

A single set of Cuticura Remedies is often sufficient to cure torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, and scaly humors, eczemas, rashes, and irritations, from infancy to age, when all other remedies fail.

FRAUDS IN INSURANCE

RITTENHOUSE POINTS OUT DANGERS TO BE AVOIDED.

Publicity Is Best Preventive of Wildcat Schemes—Much Depends on Commissioners.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 20.—The following is part of an address on "Deceptive Insurance Methods," delivered before the convention of insurance commissioners, now in session in this city, by E. E. Rittenhouse of Denver, commissioner of insurance for Colorado. He said:

One of the most notable instances of deceiving the public in the insurance world today is found in fraternal life insurance. Its purposes are noble, and beneficent, and we all know of the great benefits which it has bestowed upon our people. But while recognizing this, no friend of fraternal insurance is justified in shutting his eyes to the mistakes and wrongs found in this branch of life insurance and which constitute a danger threatening its very existence.

Fraternal insurance in the broad sense is deceptive and misleading, because it promises the people permanent insurance and gives them only temporary insurance.

No Reserve Funds.

Our old line life companies have (not including industrials) about $10,000,000,000 of insurance in force, which the law compels them to protect by a reserve fund. The fraternal orders have about $5,000,000,000 of life insurance in force which the law does not require them to protect by a reserve fund. The reserve alone of old line companies averages about $215 per $1,000 insurance, while the total assets of the fraternal orders average but about $9.40 per $1,000 of insurance.

If it is wrong for the insurance companies and the railways to discriminate between our people in matters of rates and privileges, why is it not also wrong for our lawmakers to protect half of the people who have insurance against loss and permit the other half to go without protection?

Insurance Departments.

In this day and age an insurance department should not be used as a political dormitory, a place for party workers to drowse and drone between elections, as some departments have been in the past.

The head of an insurance department who follows the line of least resistance, who shies at responsibility, and who idles away his time and his term, with his only active interest centered in the arrival of the salary warrant, will contribute mighty little to the success of state supervision. Owing to the system under which his term, his salary, and his qualifications are named, he sometimes reasons like this:

"My term is short. It will take much study and labor for me to fathom the various branches of this business sufficiently to discharge my duties intelligently. Besides, if I undertake to enforce the laws strictly, or to go beyond their specific commands to correct evils, I shall make powerful enemies. The directors of local companies are prominent and influential men. If I antagonize them, I am finished. The salary doesn't justify any such sacrifice. What's the use?"

Perhaps such a man is not so much to blame as the system which selects him. But it seems to me that the public official who is appointed and sworn to protect the public against frauds and impositions, and who ignores his duties, proves faithless to his trust, and stands charged with the same degree of guilt as the soldier who sleeps while on guard, and who thereby brings distress upon those who have trusted him.

Public Relies on Law.

To many wage earners the insurance premium is a very heavy burden, but they shoulder it cheerfully. They know little or nothing of the intricacies of their contracts, and they are, therefore, easily imposed upon. They know, however, that there are laws enacted for their protection, and that there is a man up at the capitol who is paid and sworn to guard them against the sharks of insurance who would deceive or rob them.

If the man at the capitol fails to do his utmost to protect these people, if with full knowledge of the existance of fake insurance schemes or other abuses he fails to publicly warn these people, why is he not equally guilty with the company which commits the offense?

The lesson of the New York exposures was not alone for the officials of insurance companies. It was also for those who failed to properly supervise the companies. The heavy hand of publicity, directed by an outraged public, fell justly or unjustly, upon some of the brightest lights in the life insurance world. They have been held to account not only for their own neglect or mismanagement, but for the misdeeds of their subordinates whom they were paid to supervise.

The insurance departments have escaped with very little public condemnation, and have suffered no penalty for their failure to keep the public informed of the methods of these companies. If the methods of these companies had been carefully supervised by the departments, the evils disclosed would never have taken root and grown to such alarming proportions, and the resultant injury to insurance would have been prevented.

Disclosures Did Good.

The lesson of these disclosures has not been entirely lost upon the insurance departments. A general awakening seems to have taken place all along the line. In many states the departments have increased the efficiency of supervision and have taken a strong stand against deceptive methods. In some instances, where they did not have a specific law, the commissioners have used their general supervisory powers to put a stop to advisory board, agency stock and similar plans to deceive the public. If this can be done in one state, it can be done in others.

State supervision is today much more thorough and of infinitely more value to the public than it was before the recent investigations occurred. Before that time many departments seemed to be observing a sort of an unwritten law—for which the companies were doubtless responsible—to the effect that an insurance department had no right to investigate the methods of a company, but must confine its supervision solely to matters affecting solvency. In fact, examinations a few years ago, in most cases, consisted only of checking the reserves and verifying the companies' trial balances. I am sorry to say that I have found that this erroneous idea and this method of examination is not yet entirely abandoned.

The Publicity Cure.

The state insurance departments represent virtually the first real attempt by the people to supervise corporations. One of the purposes of this supervision was to keep the public informed of the methods and of the condition of insurance companies. The departments were, in fact, intended to be publicity bureaus. Now, I know that the publicity measures already adopted have accomplished great good. But the fact that so many deceptive methods still exist in insurance is convincing evidence that these publicity measures have not gone far enough.

The insurance departments in nearly all states are authorized to examine or investigate insurance companies. Most of the states authorize the publication of the results of such investigations which may be of interest to the public. If they do not specifically do so, such authority is certainly implied, for the information is of no value to the public unless it is published.

We require insurance companies to make elaborate financial statements annually. This is, of course, very essential. But these reports relate almost entirely to the financial condition of the company. The average citizen can not analyze these statements; in fact, they are a puzzle to many insurance men and to some commissioners. If he could analyze them, they would tell him little or nothing about the business methods and policies of the companies in dealing with the public.

NEW CURE FOR THE RHEUMATIC

to become quiet. Shen looked at me. She said, 'I was in hell. I am in Heaven now.' I thought she meant she was getting better. I believed God was helping her. When she said that it started work with renewed vigor."

Greenhaugh broke down and sobbed as he told the story. After more of the torture Greenhaugh said Mitchell told him to pray and that his mother was sleeping. "My father was not allowed in the room during the treatment," Greenhaugh went on. "Mrs. Mitchell told him that my mother was sleeping and that she would eat supper with us that night. When she failed to appear my father became worried and wanted to go to the room, but this was not allowed. In the evening I began to realize that my mother was dead and I confessed all to my father. We watched the greater part of the night for signs of returning life, but none came."

Mitchell and Greenhaugh were laborers employed by the Lake Forest university. The men were neighbors in Zion City and close friends. The husband and son realized that Mrs. Greenhaugh was really dead and the body was turned over to an undertaker and embalmed for burial.

Harold Mitchell admitted tonight to the coroner's jury upon resumption of the examination into the manner of Mrs. Greenhaugh's death, that the woman's demise was directly due to the treatment administered. He nervously fingered his slim black mustache as he faced the authorities and a room full of spectators.

"I am in a tight box," he admitted. "I suppose I must face the consequences. I praise God that I am given the power to cast out devils, and this is just what I tried to do for Mrs. Greenhaugh, but I guess I was not possessed of the right spirit. We all have the gift of faith, so when we went to the Greenhaugh home, Wednesday, we informed the sick woman's husband that he must leave because he had two devils."

Mitchell tried to place the blame for the actual torture of the woman upon Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Smith.

ROGERS IN DIFFICULTY

VICE PRESIDENT OF STANDARD FACES BANKRUPTCY.

Has Been Borrowing Millions at High Interest to Sink in Tidewater Railway.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Wall Street is startled by a story that Henry H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil company, has been "stung" to the tune of $40,000,000 in his Virginia railroad project and that his breakdown is due primarily to worry over impending bankruptcy. While the Street is still pondering over the portentous news, friends of Mr. Rogers are running about spreading the tidings that the story was made out of whole cloth, that Mr. Rogers is still the possessor of a little fortune of about $200,000,000, mostly in cash in the bank.

That the greater portion, between 60 and 75 per cent of Mr. Rogers' reputed fortune has been expended in the building of the Tidewater railway through the state of Virginia, has been repeatedly rumored about Wall Street for the last week or ten days.

These rumors yesterday congealed into positive statements on the part of the more important operators in the financial section that the Standard Oil magnate was even in straits, so far as raising funds for the completion of the road is concerned.

The statements were caused by the reported sale by Mr. Rogers of 60,000 shares of Union Pacific to J. P. Morgan, although this was later denied in person by Mr. Morgan.

For the last few weeks, during all the decline in prices, Mr. Morgan is known to have been unloading such gilt-edged stocks as Standard Oil, Union Pacific and St. Paul at tremendous sacrifices, presumably for Mr. Rogers, for the purpose of investing further amounts in the Tidewater project.

It was argued in support of the statements of Mr. Rogers' losses that he has shown a remarkable readiness recently to pay exceptionally high rates of interest to raise money. It was only a few months ago that Mr. Rogers, in order to continue his Tidewater railroad, which has been a sort of will-o'-the-wisp—luring him on from one big investment to another, had to raise $10,000,000, for which he gave personal notes secured by $20,000,000 first mortgage bonds, $10,000,000 stock and as much in dividend or interest paying collateral. On this borrowed $10,000,000 it is generally stated he was forced to pay from 5 to 10 per cent interest.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS. PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Cripple Creek Typographical union No. 227 will entertain the visitors with a lunch, followed by a ride over the electric high line and low line. The trustees will then be taken through one of the mines in the camp, returning to Colorado Springs tomorrow night. W. W. FLYING FISH IN NEW JERSEY

From the New York World.

Tom Garrison, a well known guide and innkeeper at Lakeside, N. J., went fishing on Greenwood lake Saturday night. He was stooping to get bait out of the bait box when a big bass jumped into the boat and struck him on the ribs a blow so sharp that he cried out in pain and surprise. The bass fell on the boat seat and flopped back into the water before Garrison could grab it.

Garrison says it's a common thing for big-mouth bass to [illegible] boat which disturbs them at [illegible] in shallow water. Not long ago on a moonlight night a woman was rowing on the lake. A bass weighing almost five pounds jumped into her lap, scaring her nearly out of her wits.

NEW ROAD IS PLANNED

PROJECT TO CONNECT DENVER DIRECT WITH SEATTLE.

Ground for Depot Purchased at Cost of $100,000---Will Be of Benefit to Colorado.

DENVER, Sept. 20.—The Denver, Laramie & Northwestern Railway company, which has been quietly at work in this city for nearly a year, securing rights of way and land options with the objects of building a new road from Denver to the northwest, yesterday purchased 160 acres of land near the Argo smelter at a cost of $100,000 to be used as supply yards and later as site for sheds and roundhouses. The tract of land lies just west of the Argo smelter, north of the Colorado & Southern and the Moffat roads, south of the Broadway extension and west of West Forty-eighth avenue. It is known as the Highby addition and is just about half a mile this side of Utah Junction.

The Denver, Laramie & Northwestern railroad was incorporated about one year and a half ago to build a line from Denver through Fort Collins, Laramie and Lander to Seattle. The offices of the road were moved to this city about a year ago and located in the Ernest & Cranmer building. The officers of the company are Judge John D. Milliken of Kansas, formerly president of the state bar association of that city, former United States Senator Harris of Kansas, who was engineer in charge of the construction of the Kansas Pacific railroad; Wilson L. Davenny of New York, Sidney J. Kent, formerly commissioner of labor and statistics of Kansas, and R. H. Dwyer, formerly with the Missouri Pacific and the Illinois Central railroads.

Will Run to Seattle.

The plans of the company are to build at present from Denver to connections with the Harriman roads at Lander, Wyo., going by way of Fort Collins, thence through Fish canon to Laramie, Wyo., and then south of the Union Pacific tracks to Lander. The road is ultimately to be built to Seattle.

The officers state that some of the stock of the road has been subscribed for by Denver people, but that the majority of the capital to build it will come from outside of the state. They expect to begin actual construction work inside of sixty days. The route as surveyed will shorten the distance to Fort Collins by 12 miles and to Laramie by 30 miles, and will bring the Yellowstone park within one night's ride of Denver. The continental divide will be crossed west of Fort Collins, where a right of way has been secured through Fish creek canon and which it is said presents no extremely difficult engineering features and will give a grade of less than 2 per cent. This canon is 12 miles long. From Denver to Fort Collins the route will take the road about midway between the Union Pacific and Colorado & Southern.

Means Much Benefit.

[illegible] and near the Argo smelter, which is to be used for terminal purposes, was negotiated through W. E. Skinner of the Denver Union Stock Yards company. "The construction of this road will mean a big thing for the live stock interests of this city," said Mr. Skinner. "It will open millions of acres of fine grazing lands in northern Colorado and southern Wyoming, and will prove the means of giving a greater impetus to the stock industry of this section. Denver will also profit by the opening of new mineral belts through the building of this road, and it will mean renewed activity in all industrial life."

The route of the new line will make connections with the principal trans-continental lines and will make north and south connections with the Union Pacific, the Chicago & Northwestern, the Hill roads and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads. The line has been surveyed and definitely located as far as Laramie, and preliminary surveys have been made as far as Lander. It has not been definitely decided what route will be followed into the last named town. The rights of way are understood to have been secured as far as Laramie, and most of these are owned by the company in fee simple.

Will Tap New Fields.

The company has also incorporated a subsidiary company which has secured valuable mineral rights and which holds title to much of the right-of-way property. Included in these holdings are several townsites, which will be developed as the road is constructed and which will create additional territory for the Denver markets to supply. Much of the agricultural territory adjacent to the Fort Collins district has remained undeveloped for lack of railroad facilities, and the construction of the road will renew activity in that section.

The company has heretofore been disinclined to give out information regarding its plans, and has declined to answer inquiries as to who were behind the company. The filing of the deed for the terminal property is the first definite information to reach the public since the incorporation of the road. S. M. Neuvis is the engineer in charge of the work, and he recently made a trip over the entire line, with a party of capitalists from the east.

A BIG PUBLISHING HOUSE DISTRIBUTING WATCHES FREE

How It Gets It's Money Back.

Within the last fifteen years the Bobbs-Merrill company of Indianapolis has grown to be one of the biggest and strongest publishing houses in the country. They were the first publishers of James Whitcomb Riley's poems, but since then have had wonderful success in publishing such best selling novels as "When Knighthood was in Flower," by Charles Major, "The House of a Thousand Candles," by Meredith Nicholson; "The Bishop's Carriage," "The Man on the Box," "The Man of the Hour," and the best works of many other well known writers.

Good judgment and original, aggressive methods have made the Bobbs-Merrill company what it is—a big successful concern, with assets of more than a million and a high reputation in the business world.

The Most Interesting Magazine.

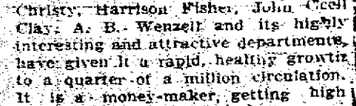
Some years ago this company bought up a number of well known magazines and consolidated them all under the name of "The Home Magazine." The splendid quality of the magazine, its good stories by the best writers of the day, its wealth of pictures by such famous artists as Howard Chandler Christy, Harrison Fisher, John Cecil Clay, A. B. Wenzell and its highly interesting and attractive departments, have given it a rapid, healthy growth to a quarter of a million circulation. It is a money-maker, getting high prices for its advertising space.

But the big publishing house is not satisfied with ordinary success. It wants and is determined to have the biggest circulation among intelligent people of any magazine in the country. It is giving more and better literature at a dollar a year than any other magazine at any price. But there are millions of people in America who don't know this and never will know it until they see the magazine and read it. The publishers feel that as many people as try The Home Magazine will become permanent subscribers.

The Million Mark.

They want a million subscribers, and are willing to spend a million dollars to get them, for once they are gotten The Home Magazine, as a property, will be worth millions of dollars on its advertising revenue alone.

To this end the Bobbs-Merrill company is offering a watch to every person sending in one dollar for a year's subscription to The Home Magazine and a correct solution to this simple rebus:



The watches are in both lady's and gentleman's sizes, are stem-wind and stem-set, warranted by the manufacturers to be good timekeepers. The manufacturers' guarantee accompanies each watch.

How to Get a Watch.

Clip the coupon below and fill in your name and address. Enclose it with one dollar to the Bobbs-Merrill company, Indianapolis, Ind. Write your solution of the rebus plainly and indicate your choice of watches by scratching out the one you do not want. All answers must be mailed not later than September 28. The Home Magazine will be sent to you for one year. On October 5 a list of the winners of watches from among the readers of this paper will be published in these columns. If you do not know the high standing and reputation of the Bobbs-Merrill company, the manager of this newspaper will give you full information.

THE AMERICAN MISER.

The jingle of purse shining gold
Is a musical chime for greed;
Though its love bring no woe hereafter,
Yet gold is the pith of our creed.

A million of dollars in gold
Is fortunes for fully a score;
And yet when a million we hold,
How we sign for the millions more.

Let them talk of dishonest gains
Of widows' and orphans' funds,
And should we fast and pass a prey
So like unto bon-bons-buns?

Should we make a shield of a man;
Why not, I should like to know?
Could Sage have left that stately pile
If he had not done just so?

And twenty thousand a year
Is small pay for Senator D—;
He gives the advice by which we thrive,
So he earns his cash, you see.

We want the whole earth for to rent—
Want its gems with its silver and gold;
With all this we might cry content
And let the great future unfold.

But would this suffice us? Oh, no:
The planets might teem with fine gold;
And in such case we still have a race
Before all our story is told.

—Luther T. Quick.

B. L. GRAVES ABLE TO TALK

Recovers Consciousness Again and Talks to Mother and Fiancee. Will Probably Recover.

"Where am I?" "How did I get here?" and "How was I hurt?" were the first words spoken by Britton L. Graves, one of the victims of the automobile accident last Tuesday morning, on recovering complete consciousness for a few minutes yesterday. Graves recognized his mother and Miss Pearl Cassady, his sweetheart, even more fully than on Thursday, and tried to find out the cause of his injury. The attendants would not allow him to talk much, and merely told him that he fell and hurt himself. His unexpected strength has caused strong hopes for his recovery.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL COURTS

W. H. Spurgeon filed suit against the Sun-set Eclipse Gold Mining company in the district court yesterday, to recover approximately $10,000 and interest, on various promissory notes of different amounts, ranging from $20 to $4,500, alleged to have been executed by the company to him for money loaned by the plaintiff.

Charles Weaver, colored, was found guilty of assault to kill by a jury in the district court yesterday. His attorney gave notice of a motion for a new trial. Weaver is claimed to have cut Ben Wooten, another negro, with a knife during a quarrel in Manitou several weeks ago.

W. S. Witteon, arrested by the sheriff's office a few days ago, was turned over to Humane Agent Ransom of Denver yesterday. He is wanted in Denver on a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency and may be made the defendant of a more serious charge.

A warrant was sworn out in Justice Ruby's court yesterday against D. W. Silverhorn, charging him with grand larceny. Silverborn, who was arrested by Detectives Burns and Patton several days ago, will have a trial before Justice Ruby in a day or two. He is accused of stealing a diamond ring valued at $300 from B. W. Miller.

H. J. Goodrich and Sam Matthews, both charged with assault to kill, will have a hearing before Justice Ruby next week. The trial was continued from yesterday.

J. L. Schaefer, who recently lost his suit against J. N. Wilson, for $237.10, in the county court, yesterday appealed the cast to the district court.

RECEPTION—The Y. M. C. A. will hold its annual reception to the young men of Colorado college in the association gymnasium at 8 o'clock tonight. Athletic contests and a basketball game between the Y. M. C. A. seniors and a picked college team will be features of the evening. Refreshments will be served, and after the contests the swimming pool will be thrown open to the visitors.

It is probable that the last power extension of the Niagara Falls power plants has been made. Public sentiment is opposing further use of the great cataract for industrial purposes.

AJAX MINE CLOSES DOWN

Suspends Operations Pending Rebuilding of Golden Cycle Mill. Work Progressing Favorably.

The Ajax mine, on Battle mountain, Victor, has suspended operations pending the reconstruction of the Golden Cycle mill, as predicted in The Gazette several weeks ago.

It is reported that two of the eight roasters to be installed in the Golden Cycle plant will be in operation by October 15. Manager Harvey McGarry refuses to either confirm or deny this report. The entire mill will be rebuilt by November 15 or December 1, according to present plans.

With regard to a report that the plant would make a further reduction in the price of treatment of low-grade ore, Mr. McGarry said that the recent reduction will stand. This schedule provides for a charge of $4 per ton for ore running under $8 and $4.50 for ore worth from $8 to $10 per ton.

MISSION CLOSES TOMORROW

Special Services at St. Mary's Church — Great Success.

The mission which has been in progress at St. Mary's Catholic church in this city during the week under the direction of Dominican Fathers, R. Towle and J. Ripple of Minneapolis, will close at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. The mission has been an unqualified success. Three times every day throughout the week the church has been filled to overflowing with Catholics and Protestants desirous of hearing the dogmas of the faith explained.

Tomorrow the service will be at the usual hours—first mass at 6:30 a. m., second mass at 8, third mass at 9, and fourth, or high mass at 10 o'clock. WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"TILLY OLSON" AT THE OPERA HOUSE TODAY

"Tilly Olson" is the name of a comedy of Swedish-American life that will be given at the Opera house today, matinee and night. The piece has been constructed to give due prominence to the characteristics of the fair sex of Scandinavia, in marked contrast to the usual type of Swedish drama wherein the central figure has always been of the opposite sex. "Tilly Olson" is not a caricature of Swedish feminine character, but rather a dainty and effective history of the struggle and fortunes of a young girl, thrown upon the world at an early age, and through force of circumstances obliged to serve as a menial amid uncongenial surroundings, until right triumphed and she regained what rightfully was hers. The first and second acts of the play are laid in a farming district of Minnesota, the third and fourth acts are laid in the city of Minneapolis. Some realistic scenic effects have been prepared and the scenery has all been painted by the well-known scenic artists of the Broadway theater, New York, Messrs. Moses and Hamilton. A strong and capable company will appear in the play and the title role will be played by Miss Aimee Common, one of the best eccentric comediennes on the American stage. Popular prices will be charged. Matinee, children 10 cents, adults 25 cents. Evening, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

TILLY OLSON,
At the Opera House Today, Matinee and Night.

OFFERS MANY NOVELTIES

The William H. West big jubilee minstrels that come to the Opera house next Monday evening offers more real novelties than were ever before promised by a like organization. The fact is there is nothing old in the show, everything being right up to the minute, and those claiming that all minstrel performances were alike should see this superb company, and then apologize to their neighbor for what they have been buying. The West minstrels are like others in the way that they are called minstrels only; but the program presented is much different and superior. Its construction is such that it could be really termed a monstrous innovation with the gorgeous ensembles, grand stage spectacles, as well as its magnificent numbers in the musical class. Many of America's most celebrated vocalists are connected with this monster conclave this season, together with a contingent of mirth makers that put the name of West as the real leader in the minstrel world. Prices, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

OLGA NETHERSOLE IN "CARMEN"

Next Tuesday evening at the Opera house, Olga Nethersole, the great English actress, will pay her second visit to this city, and for her bill she has selected Merimee's wonderful story, "Carmen." For the purpose of getting local color for her performances, Miss Nethersole, during the past summer went to the Plaza del Toros in San Sebastian, Spain, and saw a bull fight, and the following is her impression of it, briefly stated:

"It was terrible, horrible! I never want to see another. The one thing I realized was the far cry there is from the imaginative to the realistic in life. Many times in my play of 'Carmen' I have stood outside the bull ring on the stage in that last act and tried to imagine something of the real scene. Very different were my feelings when I stood outside—and then inside the real bull ring in Spain last August."

Miss Nethersole will be supported by her London company, including Frank Mills. She will be greeted by a packed house next Tuesday evening.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater
Saves Enough Fuel in One Winter to Pay for Stove

WHAT COLE'S HOT BLAST HEATER DOES.

It makes a ton of Lignite Coal or slack equal a ton of $5.50 coal in the ordinary heater. This large saving in fuel soon pays for stove.

It keeps fire 36 hours without attention thereby doing away with the labor and dirt of rekindling the fire.

Its scientific air tight construction (which is found only in this heater) causes a more perfect combustion resulting not only in a saving in fuel, but also a saving in soot and ashes and lets all gases, which are constantly escaping from other stoves.

It gives a constant even heat day and night, in reality the advantage of modern heat without the expense of installing and operating a furnace. Can be closed up during the warmer part of the day thereby saving the fuel and not overheating the house.

You run no risk whatever in buying a Cole's Hot Blast Heater because we give guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money cheerfully refunded.

Over 2,000 now in use in Colorado Springs and vicinity.

MANUFACTURER'S GUARANTEE.

1.—We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal or slack.

2.—We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with same heating surface.

3.—We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.

4.—We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal thirty-six hours without attention.

5.—We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.

6.—We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air tight as long as used.

7. We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.

The above guarantee is made with the understanding that the stove be operated according to directions and set up with a good flue.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU OPEN

Work Has Already Been Found for Twenty Laborers.

The Colorado Springs office of the State Free Employment bureau was established last Tuesday morning in its quarters at 14 North Nevada avenue, and will be open every day except Sundays and legal holidays, from 8 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The branch is in charge of Superintendent Wesley Nethers and Assistant H. T. Pinnock. The phone number is main 835.

It is planned to have separate rooms for both men and women, and the office will soon be fitted up with new furniture, application blanks, etc. The bureau would not have been opened so soon but for the influx of many laborers from Pueblo who sought work. The bureau opened in time to receive the application of many of these, and about 20 of the men have been placed with the Pike's Peak Hydro-Electric company and at the Standard and Golden Cycle, mills.

No charge of any kind is made for securing work for applicants. Men, women and children of all races are treated impartially. As report is made by Superintendent Nethers to the secretary of state each Thursday.

Mayor D. N. Heizer, who formerly occupied the quarters at 14 North Nevada avenue, has his office in the city hall.

CURED HAY FEVER AND SUMMER COLD.

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." For sale by all dealers.

BETTER FINANCIAL FEELING

Improvement in Commercial Conditions Is Marked.—Easier Money Reported.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Whether attributable to the improvement in the general financial situation or because of favorable weather allowing of additional crop development, there is a perceptibly better feeling in general commercial lines. Retail trade has by no means been as desired or expected because of the warm weather, while helping crops has not stimulated fall buying to any great extent. Reports as to jobbing trade so far this fall are in the main favorable, though the undertone of conservatism is still perceptible. The feeling is that frequent rather than large buying is to be the keynote of the autumn trade.

Still while the larger markets report a cessation of activity the volume of shipments is heavy and the smaller markets are reporting the influence of completed harvesting or of fall festivals in enlarged transactions. There are still many cross currents visible which prevent generalization and enough irregularities to convince many observers that a quieting down of excessive demand, concededly desirable in some lines, is not improbable. Easier money conditions are reported to have stimulated buying of raw wool by manufacturers. Collections as a whole are better, but there are reports from some markets of more numerous requests for renewals of paper and some large manufacturing enterprises with profitable contracts on hand have sought and received financial assistance to tide them over present tight money periods. The feeling in the iron trade is better, inquiry manifesting itself, but the quotations of leading products are no firmer, and indeed some lines and markets are lower on the week. Still further reduced quotations for copper have evoked only a small volume of buying and lead is also lower with restriction of output of both metals actively in progress.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending September 19 number 179, against 172 last week, 171 in the like week of 1906; 173 in 1905; 203 in 1904, and 185 in 1903.

Canadian failures for the week numbered 40 as against 22 last week and 26 in this week a year ago.

Wheat, including flour exports from the United States and Canada, for the week ending September 19, aggregated 4,340,854 bushels, against 5,291,866 last week; 4,677,523 this week last year, and 3,840,734 in 1905.

For the first 12 weeks of the fiscal year the exports are 38,841,836 bushels, against 35,363,389 in 1906-1907, and 78,444,392 in 1901 and 1902.

Corn exports for the week are 298,911 bushels, against 677,135 last week, and 545,751 in 1906. For the fiscal year to date exports are 14,113,726 against 7,988,398 in 1906-07.

SO DECEPTIVE

Many Colorado Springs People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

Backache is so deceptive.
It comes and goes keeps you guessing.
Learn the cause then cure it.
Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys.
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.
Cure every kidney ill from backache to diabetes.

Here's a Colorado Springs case to prove it.

Mrs. Philip Gamble, of 719 South Nevada avenue, Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "Mr. Gamble has used Doan's Kidney Pills and speaks very highly of them. His back ached frequently across the loins and kidneys—causing him much inconvenience. If he stooped, lifted or took cold, the trouble was always aggravated, and at these times he suffered acutely. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co.'s store, he was soon entirely free from the trouble. Mr. Gamble recommends Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity."

ORE RUNS HIGH IN GOLD

Second Shipment of Lessees Is Valuable Rock

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 20.—The second shipment of the week from the Humphries-Thompson Leasing companies operating through the Ophelia tunnel on the properties of the Work, Stratton Estate, Cripple Creek Consolidated and Peggy companies will be sent out tomorrow. Five cars of ore will be loaded out over the Tunnel Tramway company, running direct from the ore houses at the mouth of the tunnel to the leading switch on the Florence and Cripple Creek road on Gold hill. The ore is estimated to return values of from two to six ounces gold to the ton according to grade.

TO RESUME SHIPMENTS

Ore Will Be Shipped by Columbia Company Monday.

Special to The Gazette.

ANACONDA, Sept. 20.—The Columbia Mining and Development company, operating on the Chicken Hawk claim of the Katinka Gold Mining company, on Guyot Hill will resume shipments on Monday. The Chicken Hawk shaft is the deepest in the Guyot Hill section, and at the bottom level a vein carrying pronounced values is under development. The quartz, characteristic of the Mary McKinney vein of which this is the extension, is affluorite quartz, heavily seamed with sylvanite, and picked specimens will run up in the pictures. The ore will ship as broken at from two to five ounces gold, to the ton.

DELMONICO SHIPS ORE

One Car Per Day Now Running Three Ounces in Gold.

Special to The Gazette.

ALTMAN, Sept. 20.—Two cars of ore, containing about 50 tons were loaded out yesterday from the ore house at the main working shaft on the Delmonico claim on Bull Hill, owned by the Consolidated Copper Creek Mining company. The ore was mined by the Treweek Brothers, lessees at the 600-foot level south of the shaft, and is estimated to return values of two and three ounces gold to the ton, the higher values being from the screenings.

WILL MAKE CLEANUP.

Over 1,200 Tons of Low Grade Runs $1.60 Per Ton.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 20.—A cleanup is being made today at the leased mill of the Cripple Creek Homestake company on Ironclad Hill, operated by the Phoenix Leasing and Milling company. The mill has been running for the past 10 days on ore of low average value of $1.60 a ton, and approximately 1,200 tons has been put through the solution tanks. A retort of the gross bullion value of $2,000 is the estimate of the mill management, on the cleanup.

DUMP PAYS WELL

Fifty Tons Daily Treated From Mary McKinney.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 20.—Fifty tons daily is being treated at the cyanide mill on the property of the Mary McKinney company on Gold hill. The bulk of the ore is coming from the dumps of the E. Porter Gold King and Clara D. mines on Gold hill. This ore is ranging from five to eight dollars a ton, and as the rock is loaded direct into wagons from the dump, and the haulage charge is light, profit is resulting both to the mill operators and the dump lessees. The Clara D. claim is owned by the Lexington company.

STOCKS AGAIN QUIET

BORROWED STOCKS DUMPED ON MARKET.

Other Features Are Encouraging. Big Currency Movement for the Week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The stock market became very quiet today. Reports from brokers of the return of large blocks of stocks which had been borrowed for delivery, afforded a clue to one reason for the slowing down of the buying in the extent of the covering of short contracts which has been already done. With the perception that buying of this character was largely responsible for the advance which has occurred in prices, operators were disinclined to enter on extensive commitments on the long side of the market. Estimates of the week's currency movement pointed again to a gain by the banks, the figures indicating between two and three million dollars as the amount of the increases.

The call loan market however, showed returning ease. The foreign trade statement for August attracted attention by reason of the small balance of excess value of exports over imports for the month. This amounted to but $1,039,552 compared with $24,104,453 in August of 1906. Not only was there a falling off of upwards of $2,000,000 in value of exports, but value of imports has risen more than $20,000,000 over those for August last year. The present movement of grain for export however, is heavy and reports were current in the grain markets of some sensational buying of futures.

It is asserted also that foreign demand for the New York city bonds is a pronounced factor in the active market that has sprung up, for these securities dealt in "when issued." Their continued advance was the feature of the bond market today, the fifty-year issue rising to 106⅝, compared with an average price to subscribers of about 102. The ten-year issue also became active today, advancing to 102⅜, compared with an issue price below 101. This movement is of pronounced tonic effect on the whole market. The late reaction in the market was partly retrieved and the closing tone was firm.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $3,002,000.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

SENTIMENT IS BULLISH

WHEAT REACHES HIGH MARK FOR SEASON.

Advance at Liverpool and Frosts in Canada Send Prices Climbing.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Wheat for May delivery sold on the board of trade today at $1.08½, the high record mark for the season. Other options showed corresponding advances. The sharp upturn was caused by sensational reports of damage by weather to the crop of western Canada. At the close the December delivery was up 1⅝@1⅝c. Corn was up 1@1⅛c. Oats were 1¾c higher, and provisions 10c to 20c higher.

Sentiment in the wheat pit was extremely bullish all day and the volume of trade was large. The opening quotations on the leading options were ⅝c to 1@1⅛c higher than the close of yesterday. The reason for the opening strength was an advance of almost 2d in the price of wheat at Liverpool, because of crop damage reports from Canada and greatly decreased shipments from Argentine. The local market was further strengthened by a dispatch from Winnipeg which said "The last of this crop goes down and out tonight, killing frosts being predicted everywhere."

This message caused a stampede among shorts throughout, almost regardless of price. The report that 100 boatloads of wheat had been taken for export at New York also strengthened the market. Part of the gain was lost on heavy realizing but the market closed strong. December opened ⅝c to 1¼c higher at $1.00¾ to $1.01¾, sold between $1.00⅞@1.02⅝, and closed at $1.01⅞@1.02. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 220,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 860,000 bushels, against 1,014,000 bushels on the same day last year.

Minneapolis Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 600 cars, against 400 cars last week and 709 cars a year ago.

The corn market followed closely the pace set by wheat, final quotations on the leading options showing gains of from ⅝@⅞c to 2 cents. The close was strong. December opened ⅛@⅛c to 1¼@1½c higher at 57¼c to 68¼c, sold up to 59⅜c, and closed at 58⅝c. Local receipts were 718 cars, with 210 of contract grade.

Oats were strong in sympathy with wheat and corn, but were less active. December opened ⅝c to ¾c higher at 53½c to 54c, held within the opening range all day, and closed at 53½c. Local receipts were 288 cars.

Provisions were strengthened by the sharp advance in corn. January pork being especially strong. At the close January pork was up 20c at $15.27½. Lard was 10c higher at $8.65@8.67½, and ribs were 12½@15c higher at $7.95.

A FRENCH MYSTIC'S QUAINT THEORY

From the New York Tribune.

A quaint theory is that of a French mystic, who holds that the four points of the compass have an influence on human health and well-being. Traveling west, asserts this authority, induces melancholy; traveling eastward brings cheerfulness; southward languor and irritability, and northward calmness. It is a question of electrical currents, and the influence is felt not only when traveling, but also when at home. The best posture for walking is to face either north or east, says the Frenchman. In these positions you receive positive waves of electricity, the negative currents coming from the other two points, south and west. Even the sleep is improved, it seems, if the foot of the bed be turned to the north or the east. To sleep in the contrary position induces nightmare and general uneasiness.
